NEAT CLUB ROOMS ATTACHED

Commercial Row, Reno Nevada

From the day that a young man starts out to seek his first position to the end of his business life, his health has a world to do with his success. When a young man applies to a business man for a position, his personal appearance has a deal to do with the outcome. "Personal appearance" does not mean dress alone. It does not mean exterior cleanliness alone. A young man may be clean, so far as soap and water will make him, but be disfigured by unsightly pimples, eruptions and dicerations on the skin. These are due to impurities in the blood. The blood becomes impure because it is improperly nourished. Instead of receiving the life-giving elements of the food, it receives the foul emanations of indigestion, biliousness and costiveness. The reason that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best remedy for disorders of this description is that it goes right to first causes. It gives a man an appetite "like a horse." It facilitates the flow of digestive juices. It corrects all disorders of the digestion, and makes the assimilation of the life-giving elements of the food perfect. It invigorates the liver. It purifies and enriches the blood. It makes the muscles strong and active. It tones and steadies the nerves. It makes a young man look as he should—strong of body, alert of brain and clean and wholesome of skin. Medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing "just as good."

"I had eczema in its worst form," writes Austin Ramsey, Esq. of Sallito, Huntington Co., Pa. "I tried three doctors but got no relief. I thought it would set me wild, it itched and burned so badly. The neighbors thought I would never be cured. I took your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and am now well."

Death and Birth Time.

There are a great number of curious superstitions as to the time of day when a dying person is most likely to draw his last breath, and the tide, moon and the wind have all been supposed to have some share in the matter. According to The British Medical Journal, Rascri, who has analyzed 25,474 cases of death and 86,515 of birth, where the exact time of day was noted, finds that the maximum number of deaths occur in the early afternoon (2:07 p.m.), and the minimum in the last hours before midnight, while the maximum number of births occur in the early hours of the morning, and the minimum in the early hours of the afternoon.

As regards the cause of this he points out the hours of the maximum number of deaths are precisely those when the pulse rate and the temperature are at their highest in health, and when there is a febrile exacerbation in illness.

A Very Queer Dresser.

A very queer man in the matter of dress was the late Duke of Portland. His eccentric grace always, it appears, ordered three frock coats to every suit. When the weather was hot, he wore one only, when it was a little less hot two, and when it was cool all three. Besides these, he always kept three greatcoats in wear, so that when winter came on he wore three frock coats and one greatcoat, as it advanced three frock coats and two greatcoats, while, when there was a real frost, he turned out in all the six.—London Correspondence.

Had Other Chances.

"I wouldn't have refused that young man if I'd been you," said a maiden aunt to her young and frisky niece. "I don't think I would either if I'd been you," retorted the saucy maiden.—Harper's Bazar.

Two Ways of a Sameness.

Skeptical Patient (to faith doctor)—How do you propose to cure this pain in my chest, doctor?

Faith Doctor—I shall pass my hands over your chest a few times, then tell you the pain is gone, and it will be gone.

Patient—Ah, yes! Will you dine with me, doctor? You can perform the cure afterward.

Doctor—With pleasure.

Patient—Well, take this loaf of bread and rub it on your waistcoat a few times and say you have had your dinner, and you will have had it. If the experiment is a success, we will go on with the chest cure.—London Telegraph.

Cucumbers are native to the East Indies and are grown in Cashmere, China and Persia. They were much esteemed by the ancients and are common in Egypt, where a drink is prepared from them when they are ripe.

A digitonum is a soundless piano upon which learners may become proficient with a knowledge of the keys of the instrument; also in the art of fingerings.

Objection In Logic.

"Unless you repent, so likewise shall ye all perish," thundered the missionary.

Young Man—Not-Afraid-of-Anybody Else's-Horses, the leading spirit of the Muskrat Lake John Stuart Mill club, rose in some agitation.

"How," he asked, not unearnestly, "do you reconcile what you say with the dictum that the only good Indian is a dead Indian?"

Showing conclusively that the aborigine can be dialectic if not enlightened.—Detroit Journal.

A Sure Cure.

"I've cured my husband's insomnia."

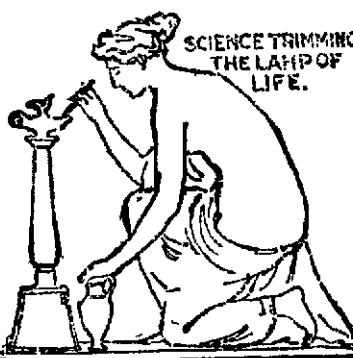

"How did you do it?"

"Pretended I was ill, and the doctor left medicine which Henry was to give me every half hour all night long."—Vanity-Fair.

PLEDGES NOT BINDING.

The Virginia Report makes the astounding declaration that party platforms should be no guide to the candidates elected upon them, and that after their elections they are at perfect liberty to cast their pledges aside and act in accordance with their own sweet wills—or interests. This is the gist, if there is any gist, of an editorial in last Saturday's edition of that paper. The wild remarks were addressed to the Democrats, who ought to feel highly flattered by the Report's assertion that the delegates in their State Convention didn't know what they were doing when they unanimously voted for a resolution denouncing Senator Stewart, and pledging the Democratic members of the State Legislature against him in joint convention; a resolution which was a part of the county platforms upon which every Democratic member was elected to the Legislature. The Report says:

"In the heat and turmoil of a political convention many things occur which in the cool atmosphere of afterthought are often regretted and even repented of by those who neglected to oppose or perchance went so far as to support the measures therein put forth and adopted as party principles.

"Such a measure, we are convinced, was that part of the Democratic platform adopted at Reno on the 10th of September, and we believe that were that plank to be submitted to the Democratic voters of Nevada to day, it would meet with the hearty denunciation of the great majority of the members of that party, especially in consideration of the fact that Senator Stewart's only serious antagonist is Francis G. Newlands, and this notwithstanding that Mr. Newlands was the so-called nominee of that party for Congressman."

As a matter of fact, the resolution referred to was not passed "in the heat and turmoil of a political convention." It was submitted unanimously by the Platform Committee and when the platform was read by sections, that resolution was received with a round of applause ten times more vociferous and three times as prolonged as the one which indorsed "every line, word and syllable of the National Democratic platform adopted at Chicago in 1896." The platform was formulated on the first day of the convention and there probably was not a delegate who was not aware that a resolution of that kind would be submitted to the convention. We are confident that the editor of the Report would not have to go out of his own establishment, if indeed out of his sanctum, to ascertain this fact, for at least one of the publishers of that paper was a delegate in the convention which didn't know what it was doing when it passed the anti-Stewart resolution. As for Mr. Newlands, no one claims that the Democratic members are under obligations to vote for him. They can vote for any citizen of the State, that they may choose or for no one at all, for their only pledge is NOT to vote for Senator Stewart and as they are presumably honorable men, they will not support the only man they are solemnly pledged not to vote for.

If convention platforms are not binding upon them, what will the Report say concerning the resolution indorsing Senator Stewart in the Silver Party Convention? That resolution was repudiated by a more than three-fourths of the people of the State including more than one-half of the Silver party itself, as is shown by the relative votes for the Stewart legislative tickets and the candidates upon the Silver party State ticket. Yet it is claimed that every Silver party legislator is bound by a resolution formulated by Stewart himself and passed by a packed convention manipulated by Mr. Wallace in the interest of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, whose salaried political agent he is and which he does not pretend or can deny. So it appears that Democrats pledged not to vote for Stewart, must vote for him because the conventions of that party didn't know what they were doing when they exacted such pledge, while the Silver party members must adhere to their implied pledges, because the men who manipulated their State Convention did know what he was doing; but that he did not know what the people would do, is manifested by the meagre return of Stewart members to the Legislature.

It is not necessary to quote the time-worn adage about the jewelry of consistency, etc.

FORCE BILL INTENSIFIED.

The Stewart papers are trying to manufacture a whole lot of bogus sympathy from Democrats from the fact that their candidate voted against the Force bill in 1890 or '91. It is true that Stewart voted against that infamous measure. So did Senator Stanford, and it was only natural and in keeping with the eternal fitness of things that the servant should vote and act in concert with his master. It is our conviction that Senator Stanford voted conscientiously and would have opposed the iniquitous bill, even if his railroad connections in the South had not made it his interest as well as his pleasure to do so. In addition to this subservient incentive, Stewart knew full well that the Lodge bill was unpopular in Nevada and that his vote would be commended by all of the Democrats and more than half the Republicans in the State. The result proved that he was correct. Six years ago he received the support of a large majority of the Democrats, as against Bartine, who had voted in favor of the bill in the lower house. The Democrats at this time did not consider the motive which prompted Stewart's action. They simply recognized the fact that he had cast one righteous vote, and so cheerfully gave him their support as against a man who had incited their resentment by voting for the oppressive measure. Had Bartine likewise voted in opposition to the bill, he would have given Senator Stewart an extremely close race and perhaps been elected in his stead.

That Senator Stewart was not sincere in his opposition to the measure, and that no principle actuated his vote is most clearly manifested by his present course, and the methods he has adopted, and is adopting, to defeat the will of the people of the State of Nevada. After being repudiated by the people and a large majority of his party at the polls, and failing to secure the necessary number of votes by purchase to insure his election, he proposes to inaugurate a reign of terror at the capital of the State, compared with which the provisions of the bill introduced by Congressman Lodge were mild and beneficent to the people of the South, as against the disaster, shame and oppression he seeks to heap upon his own constituents—if the people of the State can be so designated—in the State of Nevada. There was certainly nothing in the Force bill more infamous than the importation into a State of a gang of ruffianly gun and knife fighters, professional murderers, pugilists and thugs, to terrorize a Legislature into electing a man United States Senator, after he had exhausted the usual means of corruption to effect his purpose. If this is not intensification of the Lodge Force bill, then murder in the first degree is a milder offense than embezzlement or burglary. If Senator Stewart's sympathy for the South was sincere, he certainly more than offsets it in his hatred of the people who have permitted him to misrepresent them for the last twelve years in the United States Senate, and if the few Democratic legislators are to be influenced by such chaff, to betray their constituents by violating their most solemn pledges, then for the credit of the party it is fortunate that no more of them were elected. But mark our words. They will not be.

IN HONOR OF SENATOR MORRILL.

The flag on Morrill Hall at the University is at half mast today out of respect to the memory of Senator Morrill of Vermont in whose honor the building was named, as the author of law giving Agricultural colleges throughout the United States $25,000 a year for experimental purposes.—Gazette.

Where does Stewart get off? Verily, when the g. o. m. claimed this bill for himself he lied not wisely but too well. However now that the real author is dead he will doubtless renew his claim with an added vigor.—News.

Discovered by Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and two bottles, has absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes H. C. Hannick & Co. of Shelby N. C. Trial bottles free S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store Regular size 50c and $1.00 Every bottle guaranteed.

An Interesting Case.

All people are interested in a new case that has recently cropped up in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dann's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display, of all that is modern in photography. There one may see large opalotypes small autotypes and lovely porcelains. Just think! Artistic photographs on genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it?

STATUTORY LAW FIRST.

Coolness and Deliberation in Dealing With the Threatened Outrages at Carson.

Elsewhere on this page will be noticed an article from the Carson News, in which is advocated the organization of a vigilance committee to prevent the humiliation and disgrace which threatens the capital city and the State, from the importation of the ruffians and fighters from abroad to take part in the Senatorial contest which will come off during the session of the Legislature.

While the JOURNAL does not indorse the extreme measures advocated by the News, it does consider it essential that the peace, dignity and honor of the State should be preserved at all hazards and if the officers at Carson are powerless to prevent the disgraceful scenes which the News predicts, then they should be reinforced by the citizens who should lend their aid for protection of the legislators from the threats and bullying of the hireling gang. There are plenty of laws in our Statutes making a crime of bribery or an attempt thereof, and there should be an organization of cool headed and courageous men, to not only see that such crimes are properly punished, but to prevent anything of the kind being consummated or attempted. When these means fail, it will be time enough to adopt some of the more radical measures advocated by the News. The imported Hessians should be given distinctly to understand that their first overt act will be met with speedy retribution, and that no interference on their part in a contest in which the people of Nevada only are interested will be tolerated by the respectable element of the city and State. If it comes to the worst, or if the worst is likely to occur, there are plenty of men in all parts of the State who will readily volunteer their aid to insure a fair and peaceable election of a United States Senator, and to not only subdue the hireling fighters, but to mete out justice both to bribers and bribed, if any such there are. If the more than mutterings heard here in Reno are an indication of the feeling throughout the State, the threatened reign of terror at Carson will be of short duration. Let, however, the law be given a chance, and with its failure will be time enough to appeal to that "higher law," which sometimes is necessary to enforce the statutory enactments.

Board of County Commissioners.

The Board of County Commissioners met on Monday and organized by electing H. H. Beck Chairman. The Board then adjourned till 10 A. M. yesterday.

At yesterday's session the various reports of the several county officers were received and filed. The County Auditor was ordered to re-index certain county records in a new index book provided for the purpose by the county.

Drs. Lewis and Phillips were appointed county physicians for the next six months.

The JOURNAL was awarded the county printing for the next year for the sum of $988 50. The Reno Gazette bid was $1012 50.

The money in the Treasury was counted and found correct.

The bonds of the county officers were approved.

Hull Joy and his mother, widow of the late J. H. Joy, Steward of the County Hospital, were on Saturday last appointed as Steward and Matron of the County Hospital at a salary of $150 per month.

The Board meets again to-day.

Burglary

Last Sunday night, while Night-watcherman Nash was on his rounds he discovered a large pane of glass broken out of one of the front doors of S. O. Wells' store, on Plaza street. Believing something was wrong, he communicated his suspicions to Constable McNeely and his deputy, Charles Leeper, who happened to be near. While two stood guard at the store, one aroused Mr. Wells, who let them into the store where they caught a man red-handed in the act of burglarizing the store. The thief was a young man aged about twenty-four years and gave his name as James O'Neil. He had his pockets full of pocket knives and other articles taken from the show case, and also had filled a large sack with other plunder, ready to carry away.

O'Neil claims to have had a partner, but after a thorough search none could be found.

Accidentally Shot Himself.

Mr. Croft, a man living at Mape's ranch in Glendale, while out duck hunting last Monday afternoon, met with a painful accident by the accidental discharge of his gun. It seems that in climbing over a fence he dropped his gun and in the fall it was discharged and the full load of shot struck his ankle and foot, producing a compound fracture of the ankle bone and making an ugly wound. Dr. Gibson was called to attend him and reduced the fracture.

CITIZENS COMMITTEE.

Extreme and Radical Measures Proposed to Save Our State from Humiliation and Disgrace.

There is strong sentiment among our best citizens toward organizing an old time vigilance committee to supply some very important omissions of the law. It is believed that such an organization would go a long way toward making the coming session of the legislature one that can be referred to with less humiliation after it is ended than its immediate predecessors.

The definite object of the movement would be to run all lobbyists out of town on short notice, and administer summary punishment on any and all persons who seek to trifle with members of the legislature.

Such men as Nagle and, in fact, the entire coterie of jobbers should be taken in hand at once and given notice to leave Carson. If they disobey they may, with great propriety, be tarred and feathered and escorted to Lake View and headed toward Reno. It is believed that one application would be sufficient.

Such men have no place in Nevada politics and should be kept out. They are not working for the interests of the people certainly, therefore they should have no place in the people's places of legislation.

All lobbyists should receive the same treatment, no matter who they may be working for and all such gentry should, early in the season, be given warning that they will not be allowed to remain in Carson.

If the Southern Pacific railroad or any other interest believes legislation unfair to it is contemplated, let some accredited representative of such organization ask the consent of both houses to address them in joint convention and after presenting the case before the members immediately get out of the building by the nearest fire escape and trust to Nevada's sense of justice to do right.

As a general thing a lobbyist should be hanged, the notable exception being when they should be shot, and Carson's citizens can take the initiative toward thinning out this gentry with little, if any, trouble, while the result would be a lasting benefit to the State at large.

A committee of this sort will receive the moral support of the respectable people of the nation and is needed more than anything else at the present time in Nevada. Its duties might also be arranged to entertain members of the legislature when conclusive evidence shows that they have sold out—no matter to whom or what. Having sold out at all is sufficient guilt.

This committee can accomplish more than the Parity of Elections law and its actions would have a lasting effect on the morals of Nevada.—Carson News.

Sudden Death.

Charles Fortner, the old Treasurer of Lassen county, California, at Susanville, who had been spending several days in Reno, started on his return home trip Monday morning last. He went on the N.-O.-O. railroad to Amadee, and from there to visit his brother, Jake Fortner, who resides about twelve miles from Amadee. After arriving at his brother's he took an overdose of morphine from which he died early yesterday morning. Whether the poison was taken by accident or with suicidal intent we have been unable to learn. He had been for some days on a spree in Reno, and procured his morphine at one of the drug stores in this place.

State Central Committee Meeting.

A meeting of the Silver Party State Central Committee will be held at Carson City on Thursday, January 12th, 1899, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of considering the possible contest in the gubernatorial election and contests of legislative seats. Matters of interest to the Silver party organization will be presented. A full attendance of the committee is requested.

By order of the Executive Committee.
J. N. W. ROY,
Secretary.

A Question.

Monday being treated as a holiday the most of the new county officers did not take their offices until yesterday. As Sunday was the legal holiday, known to the law, and as some of the officers qualified and took the official oath on Saturday, a question might arise as to the legality of the official acts that were performed on Monday by the outgoing officials.

Again on Deck.

J. J. Linn is once more ensconced in his old place as Justice of the Peace of Reno township. He graces the chair with all of his usual affability, and is ready to deal out justice in any sized doses that may be required, coming under his treatment.

The Gospel-Meetings.

The meetings at the Methodist Church continue to grow in attendance and interest. Last evening Rev. G. H. Jones, the pastor, took for the subject of his sermon, "The Broad and the Narrow Way." He drew a vivid picture of the two paths and made a very earnest plea for those present to choose the right path.

The meetings will continue every evening of the week except Saturday evening.

Ice Bicycle Attachment.

Under the head of "New To-day" appears the ad of the Ice Bicycle Attachment Co. of Chicago. It is something new and its appearance indicates that it would prove a very satisfactory attachment to a wheel at this season of the year when the ground is covered with ice and snow. It will also serve as a source of amusement to those who would prefer that manner of gliding over the ice rather than on skates. Read the ad.

Notice to Applicants.

Notice is hereby given that the County Board of Examination will hold its first semi-annual examination for teachers' certificates at the High School building, Reno, Nevada, commencing at 8:30 A. M. Monday, January 9, 1899. EUGENE L. WILLIAMS, Jnsd School Superintendent.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 5, 1899.

MCMILLAN'S LETTER.

Hon. William McMillan, Republican nominee for Governor last fall, in a letter published in last Tuesday's Gazette, most positively denies the charge circulated in the campaign, that he made it a condition of acceptance of the nomination, that the State convention should pass the nomination for Congressman, or that he had anything whatever to do with the convention's action in that respect. Mr. McMillan says:

"During the campaign, while in Reno, I was informed that someone was circulating such a report. Being anxious to know who the author was, I became satisfied upon inquiry, that it was started by a resident of Reno who was neither a voter nor a citizen of the United States, and paid no more attention to it until the article referred to above was shown to me."

The letter referred to was Mr. Wren's letter addressed to Hon. F. G. Newlands, published in the Plindneater some time ago. The charge that he assisted Mr. Newlands in manipulating the Republican convention, he denounces as absolutely false, and challenges any reputable man in the caucus or convention at any time before the nominations were made, to come forward and say that he had ever heard him express himself as to what he should, or should not do if the party nominated a candidate for Congress.

This ought to be sufficient proof that neither Mr. Newlands nor his friends interfered in any manner with the Republican State convention, as charged by the friends of Senator Stewart, by which they sought to convey the impression that there was treachery on his part to the Silver party. The fact is, the treachery was on the other side. Mr. W. E. Sharon, Mr. Newlands' political friend and agent, authorized the JOURNAL some time ago to challenge any member of the Republican State convention to come forward and state that either Mr. Newlands, himself, or any authorized friend of Mr. Newlands had ever approached him, directly or indirectly, in regard to the convention's action in the matter of Congressman, or anything else. Mr. Sharon, however, did protest with Stewart's political agent against his endeavor to induce the Republican State convention to nominate a candidate, to be named by himself, with the assurance that Silver party aid would be furnished to secure his election. That was as near as any of Mr. Newlands' friends came to interference with the action of the Republican State convention.

It was only a protest with a man who professed to be working in the interest of the Silver party, against an act of treachery to a candidate who was running on the ticket of that political organization. Senator Stewart says he telegraphed to his political manager "to let Newlands have his way in the Republican convention." This was an admission that his manager had been trying to work the convention, against Mr. Newlands' interest, but that part of the telegram referring to Mr. Newlands was superfluous, for that gentleman had no "way" to accomplish in the convention of a party to which he did not belong. We leave it to our readers to judge as to which side the charge of treachery can be established by, and the shadow of doubt.

If the Gazette cannot understand why men instructed by their State and county platforms, besides making personal public pledges not to vote for W. E. Stewart, and being elected on that issue, cannot honorably vote for the only man in the State that they are pledged to vote against. The JOURNAL, having no sledge hammer handy, despaired of driving the requisite information through the skull of its esteemed contemporary. So far as Mr. Newlands is concerned, the JOURNAL supports him because it believes him to be the logical and most available man with which to rid the State of that "Old Man of the Sea," who has fastened himself upon the people of Nevada for the last twelve years. Mr. Newlands breaks no faith with Stewart or the Silver party in coming out as Senatorial candidate, for it was distinctly understood between their respective managers, that in case Stewart failed to elect a sufficient number of legislative members to return him to the Senate, he, Mr. Newlands, would consider himself at liberty, the same as any other citizen, to enter the contest. But even if no such understanding was had, the notorious treachery of Stewart and his henchmen in their attempts to defeat him at the election, would justify the step he has taken, in the eyes of all intelligent and honorable men.

The Lyon County Times proposes that Mr. Newlands make the same speech before the legislature that he made some time ago at Dayton. The JOURNAL proposes that Senator Stewart make any one of the speeches he delivered eight years ago, in which he declared that the Sherman law was better for bimetalism than the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

SENATOR HOAR says he'll vote for the ratification of the treaty of Paris. We knew he would. Mr. Hoar is a great patriot in speech, but when it comes to voting he obeys the command of Hanna and the other G. O. P. ringmasters.

The best New Year's editorials that we have noticed in our State exchanges is from the Silver State. It is brief, comprehensive and to the point.

If we double the expenditures of the Government by "expansion" and at the same time reduce the custom revenue by the "open door" policy in our new possessions, how will the growing deficit be met? The great producing millions must be taxed to make good difference. How do the people like the prospect?

It was Speaker Reed who put a quietus upon the Lodge anti-immigration bill by asking what sense there was in the proposal to exclude willing immigrants from Europe while we were purchasing Malay citizens at the rate of $2 per head. Nobody has answered that query yet.

LILUOKALANI protests against our Government appropriating the crown lands of Hawaii, which, she says, belong to herself. She is not educated in the methods of civilization, or she would understand it was "destiny" for her to lose the lands and for the United States to take them.

THERE is a voting population in Nevada of over ten thousand, at least two-thirds of whom are constitutionally eligible to the United States Senatorship. Yet the Stewart papers insist that Republicans and Democrats shall vote for the only man in the seven thousand that they are pledged not to vote for. Pannu, isn't it?

Sent to Convention.

Professor Orvis Ring, Superintendent of Public Instruction arrived to take his office yesterday and found that his headquarters had been moved over to the room over the State printing office. Mr. Ring was the only Republican elected, and the other State officers could not endure the thought of one of that faith really assisting in the occupation of the Capitol.—News.

Jake Kline of Carson is said to be dangerously ill at San Francisco, and that the hope is slim for his recovery. His death would be a serious loss to Carson, where he has lived and transacted business for more than a third of a century. Carson, without jolly Jake Kline, would seem like a mining camp without a hoisting works.

There was no local train from Virginia on Tuesday. It had to be abandoned on account of the heavy drifting snow. The passenger train came down last evening on time, with two engines and a snow plow attached and in darkness. Snow was piled up on the front engine and plow above and covering the headlight. There must have been quite a fall of the "beautiful" at Virginia, during the past two days.

Discovered by Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disco" fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose, that she slept all night; and two bottles, has absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz. Thus writes H. O. Hamnick & Co. of Shelby N. C. Trial bottles free. S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store Regular size 50c and $1.00 Every bottle guaranteed.

An Interesting Case.

All people are interested in a new case that has recently cropped up in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dann's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display, of all that is modern in photography. There one may see large opalotypes small autotypes and lovely porcelains. Just think! Artistic photographs on genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it?—tf

Suffering humanity should be supplied with every means possible for its relief. It is with pleasure we publish the following: This is to certify that I was a terrible sufferer from Yellow Jaundice for over six months, and was treated by some of the best physicians in our city and all to no avail. DR. S. J. CALL IN RENO.

The Surgeon of the U. S. Revenue Cutter Bear Tells A "Journal" Reporter Some Incidents of The Wonderful Journey Across Arctic Snow.

If outward appearances go for anything, Dr. Call is just the man one would select to face a hazardous undertaking. He is a man of medium height and of lithe, sinewy frame, but what impresses one is the strong, open countenance, the gleam of determination and strong, indomitable will that occasionally flashes from his eyes. Although suffering from an attack of the grippe which confines him to his apartments at the Riverside Hotel, he consented to tell the JOURNAL representative some of the thrilling accounts of his journey to the rescue of the ice bound whaling vessels at Point Barrow.

"On the 29th of November," said Dr. Call, "we left Seattle on board the U. S. Revenue Cutter Bear, well provisioned for a year's journey in the Arctic. We reached Behring sea in eight days, and rushed ahead under full steam in order to reach as northerly a landing as possible. The ice was forming rapidly, thus necessitating speed on our part in order to prevent a much longer overland journey. One object in going through Behring Sea was to reach Port Clarence or strike in the vicinity of Sledge Island.

"We were unable to do this, however, as we encountered much ice when opposite St. Lawrence Island, forcing us to put back south and sail for Cape Vancouver Island, off Nunuk Island. Owing to southeast winds having blown the ice away from the coast at this point we were able to sail in here and land the overland party. Our trip across the ice and snow has been told many times for the newspapers, but I want to relate an encounter we had with a storm on my trip from Antislook's village to the point where Lieutenant Jarvis was awaiting me.

"We were driving 135 domesticated reindeer, the Esquimoux man, Antislook, had so generously given up to the party. The distance we had to go was about 100 miles and we expected to traverse it in three or four days. Although the thermometer stood at 40 degrees below zero, the air was still and excellent for traveling, and the band of reindeer moved along very well. But when we were two days out what appeared to be a dense bank of fog arose far in front of us, which the five Esquimoux, who were assisting me with the herd, regarded with ominous looks. I did not know what it was, but on asking Antislook he informed me it was an approaching storm. In a few moments it was upon us, coming in three successive gusts. The first puff was a blast of biting wind, causing the reindeer to shake their heads; the second was a fiercer wind filled with flying ice and snow, which caused the deer to frisk about and stop in their course. With a howl of fury the storm had reached its height with the third gust, which fairly blew some of the sturdy reindeer off their feet. Unable to face the storm the band turned as one deer and came rushing straight back. They ran directly over us, the whole herd, and the wonder is that we were not killed by their trampling hoofs. Luckily we picked ourselves up uninjured and got our sledges and deer in working order again and faced about with our backs to the storm. The natives knew the location of a deserted village, of which one hut was still standing; it was about ten miles distant. Back to this place we went as fast as our sleigh deer could draw us, and in a half frozen condition we at last reached it.

"After hastily liberating the deer we crawled into the lonely hut, where we were kept three days by the fierce storm, hardly daring to even stick a finger outside. We had provisions on the sledges and there were some frozen fish in the hut, so we managed to live through the storm, keeping in our sleeping bags nearly the whole time.

"When at last the storm abated and we were able to get out of the hut, we commenced a search for the herd of reindeer. We found them peacefully eating moss on a hillside some five miles away, none the worse off after having weathered a storm that would shame a typical Russian pogora.

"Intense was the joy of the whalers on our arrival at Point Barrow, where the ice-bound vessels were. Had we dropped upon them from the sky they could not have been more surprised. But this has been published many times, and I am afraid it will prove to be stale matter now, so I will not trouble you with the account. We missed the whole of the war with Spain, having started before the conflict began, and we heard no news from the civilized world until after hostilities had ceased."

Dr. Call is now on his way to Washington to file his report as surgeon of the expedition. He was seized by the prevailing epidemic, la grippe, at this place and is consequently compelled to say over for a few days.

Wm. Waltz Injured.
William Waltz met with an accident on last Saturday that will confine him to the house for several weeks. He was returning home from Peavine with a load of wood, and as the road was exceedingly slippery, and the grade being steep, he considered it not safe for a four horse team so removed two of the horses. One of the horses which remained hitched to the wagon was a colt and he becoming unmanageable, turned over the wagon and threw the wood on to Mr. Waltz, bruising him to some extent and spraining one of his legs very badly.

Newspaper Change.

The Elko Argonaut has changed hands. The present proprietors and managers are George B. Russell and Charles H. Keith, both Elko boys born and raised. The first number which we have just received, indicates that under their management the paper will be a valuable acquisition to the press of the State. It boasts the name of Wm. J. Bryan at its mast head, there to remain until the Presidential election of 1900. In local politics it will be independent, selecting its candidates from the best men. The writer, who remembers the young men, as "kids," takes the liberty of extending the JOURNAL's right of fellowship, and expressing its sincere wish for their success, and the hope and belief that they will so cultivate the journalistic field as to insure a bountiful harvest, both in literary distinction and the coin of the realm.

Calendars Calore.

In the pictorial publications of the months of the year, January should be represented as the calendar month. At least the postoffice people would have it so, were they consulted.

Concerns valued all the way from fifty cents to millions of dollars take advantage of the calendar as an advertising medium and flood the mails the beginning of the New Year.

The M. E. Church Revival Services.

Last evening after an inspiring preliminary meeting of song and prayer, Rev. Dr. Van Deventer spoke very eloquently for a few minutes on "The Great Need of the World, Christ." The Doctor said he felt that one great need in Reno is better sidewalks and crossings, but the greatest need of the people of Reno is to know Christ, whom to know is life eternal. Then Rev. G. H. Jones spoke most impressively for half an hour from the text: "And I, If I Be Lifted up from the Earth, Will Draw All Men Unto Me." He showed that consciousness of need of atonement for sin is natural to the human heart, and that only the atoning power of Christ's blood can satisfy the needs of the soul.

The meeting was well attended and many hearts were touched by the eloquent portrayal of the betrayal, crucifixion and death of the Savior, and the earnest plea for men to accept of His pardoning grace.

The meetings will continue to-night and to-morrow evening, and everybody is welcome.
